

EU Deforestation Regulation (EUDR) Statement

European Commission's recent simplification review, which reduces the burden on downstream operators.

The Regulation applies from 30 December 2026 for large operators and 30 June 2027 for micro and small operators. The amendment also redefined responsibilities across the value chain into three categories:

- Operators (first to place a product on the EU market or export it): full due diligence, geolocation data, risk assessment and mitigation, and a Due Diligence Statement (DDS) in the EU Information System.
- First downstream operators: keep the DDS reference numbers and direct-business-partner information for five years.
- Subsequent downstream operators: keep direct-business-partner information only.

As our customer, you qualify as a downstream operator. The products you buy from Magnum Materials are already covered by a valid DDS from our Supplier, so you do not need to repeat the due diligence.

Products placed on the EU market before 30 December 2026 remain exempt no DDS is required for these transition stocks. In addition, two further simplifications are particularly relevant for international trade, for both re-imports into the EU of products previously placed on the market and for exports carried out by downstream operators, no new due diligence is required. In both cases, dedicated conventional codes will be available for use in the customs declaration, further simplifying cross-border operations.

In short, by choosing Magnum Materials, you avoid the operational and technical burden of carrying out the upstream due diligence required of an EUDR operator, as the relevant due diligence is managed within our supply chain.

We stay committed to a deforestation-free supply chain and to sharing our progress transparently.
